

HOT TOWEL SCRUB

Body scrubbing can be done before or after your bath or shower, or anytime during the day. All you need is a sink with hot water and a medium-sized cotton washcloth.

For maximum benefits, scrub your body twice a day: once in the morning and once again in the evening. Scrub for 2-20 minutes, depending on how much time you have.

The process of hot towel scrubbing has a deeper physical, mental, and emotional effect when done at the sink as opposed to in the shower.

DIRECTIONS

- 1 Turn on the hot water and fill the sink.
- 2 Hold the towel at both ends and place in the hot water.
- 3 Wring out the towel.
- 4 While the towel is still hot and steamy, begin to scrub the skin gently.
- 5 Do one section of the body at a time: for example, begin with the hands and fingers, then work your way up the arms to the shoulders, neck and face, then down to the chest, upper back, abdomen, lower back, buttocks, legs, feet, and toes.
- 7 Scrub until the skin becomes slightly pink or until each part becomes warm.
- 8 Reheat the towel often by dipping it in the hot water after scrubbing each section, or as soon as it starts to cool.

BENEFITS

- Reduces muscle tension
- Re-energizes in the morning and deeply relaxes at night
- Opens the pores to release stored toxins
- Softens deposits of hard fat below the skin and prepares them for discharge
- Allows excess fat, mucus, cellulite, and toxins to discharge rather than accumulate around vital organs
- Relieves stress through meditative action of rubbing the skin
- Calms the mind
- Promotes circulation
- Activates the lymphatic system, especially when scrubbing the underarms and groin
- Easy massage and deep self-care
- Can be a sacred moment in your day, especially if done with candlelight and a drop or two of essential oil, such as lavender
- Creates a profound and loving relationship with the body, especially parts not often shown care, and especially for a person with body image problems
- Moves energy through the chakras
